

Potty Parity -

Equal availability and speed of access to toilets/sanitary facilities, independent of gender

This is the current topic of the equal opportunities team

- Why are there queues in front of women's toilets?
- How does a gender-equitable toilet-distribution look like?
- How can we better include gender diversity better?

How does the faculty of physics want to solve this issue?

Redistribution of toilets

Starting March 18th 2024 the toilet assignments within the faculty of physics will be redistributed, to ensure fairer distribution and availability. The new toilet signage Women, trans*, inter and Men, trans*, inter as well as the addition of three All Gender toilets considers gender diversity. After a trial-period of 6 months, feedback from all members of the faculty will be collected and evaluated to detect possible needs for adjustment.

Visit our equal opportunities team website and take part in our initial survey on the current toilet situation!

You will also find more information about the topic of Potty Parity as well as a site plan of all newly assigned toilets:
